

Table with multiple columns containing names, titles, and identification numbers. The table is organized into three main vertical sections, each containing a list of individuals and their associated data.