

Table with multiple columns containing names, addresses, and identification numbers. The table is organized into three main vertical sections, each containing a list of entries with their respective details.